Attention Ladies.

An event of much interest to the ladies of Bourbon and adjoining counties will be the fall opening in millinery by the Simon Department Store, which will take place Thursday, September 29, from 1 till 6 o'clock. Decorations and music will add a charm to the scene and the big store is likely to be crowded with the fairer sex. Demonstrations in the corset department will be in progress and continue for one week, an expert corsetier, trained by the designer of Redfern models will be on hand to give instructions in style and dress so admirably obtained by those who wear Redfern corsets.

Heavy Rainstorm.

An unusually severe rainstorm passed over the northeastern portion of the county Thursday afternoon which did considerable damage on Cape Ridge and near Little Rock. The storm was accompanied by wind and lightning. Trees were uprooted and fences in a number of places were blown away. The rain came down in torrents, small streams being bank full. During the storm a tobacco barn on the farm of Gano Hildreth was blown down and Charles Fitzpatrick barely escaped with his life. He was pinned beneath a lot of tobacco which bruised his chest and side and broke several ribs. The barn was nearly full of tobacco, and when the crash came two teams and wagons and six men were on the inside and all had narrow escapes. Hail stones as large as bird eggs fell over a wide extent of territory and uncut tobacco suffered considerably.

—A beautiful compliment to Miss Sarah Armand Jones, whose marriage to Mr. Walter Stephenson Meng will be celebrated October 5, was the miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. J. W. Jones and Mrs. H. S. Redmon at the home of the latter at North Middletown, on Friday afternoon.

The entire home was profusely decorated, the parlors and halls in yellow, green and white and the dining room in red and white.

Over the lace covered table hung a large garden hat filled with red and white roses and ferns. Ropes of red and white tulle were caught from the ceiling and brought to the corners of the table where they were held in place with cut glass compots of confection. Delicious refreshments of substantial and ices were served and coffee was served in the hall by Misses Kate Brides and Ethel Coons of Georgetown.

In the center of the drawing room there was a vine covered well in which hung the "Old Moss Covered Bucket." Each gift was tied with yellow and white ribbon and rapped into the well from which the bride drew them.

There were many beautiful gifts and good wishes showered upon the charming young bride and the affair was one of the most unique and beautiful ones of the early autumn.

Ferns and golden rod were banked in the parlors and halls. An orchestra furnished the music, and those assisting in entertaining were Misses Myrtle Judy, Lily Williams, Nannie Bridges, of Georgetown, and Mrs. A. P. Braun. About sixty guests were present.
